When you are speaking I stay mum
Your words those words I know you're wrong
So I say boy, those facts aren't right
But you confuse me, you're headstrong.

When you are speaking I can see
Your words, those words, I spot the lies
But darn if I have points to make
Your words convince me otherwise

When im alone, I see what you do
You make me doubt my basic beliefs
And twist the knife till I'm just confused
A loss of words a loss of all thoughts.

When we are speaking all there is
Your words your words yes yes your words
Your words your words your words your words
And I am back to no more words.
